Mrs. Ray Young Urges Action Against Pornographic Material at District Meet

The first Literature Festival of the Verdugo District, CFWC, was held Feb. 16 from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Monrovia Woman's Club. Mrs. Willard L. Kortum, district literature chairman, called the meeting for literature departments of all women's clubs in the district.

Mrs. Ray Allen Young, chairman of the Literature Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, served as chairman of the literature display for district at the festival.

Mrs. Young introduced a motion calling for the Verdugo District Board to endorse a resolution requesting the California state legislators to revise the existing laws to reduce the availability of pornographic material to youths up to 21 years of age at the corner news stands. To organize a community awareness program to bring pressure by public opinion and community action on the publishers and sellers of pornographic material, to deter the production and distribution of such material, and that copies of the resolution be sent to the State Legislature and to the legislative chairmen of every federated club in California.

A 100-year-old Bible, displayed on the podium, was opened to the verse which read "Thy words are a light unto my feet," this was flanked by two cherrywood candelabra belonging to Mrs. Grace Nock.

Great Books

A trash barrel filled with pornographic material was prominently displayed as a contrast to the wide display of the world's finest literature.

Mrs. Bruce McAbery of the Arcadia Club, Mrs. C. A. Wirth, Temple City, and Mrs. F. I. Butters, San Gabriel, presented a Pindaric ode in narration, song and piano.

Mrs. McAbery won second place for prose and poetry in the creative literature contest.

BREAKFAST BUSINESS was booming at Arcadia Woman's Club recently as Arcadians dropped in to have ham and eggs and at the same time help support the club's latest civic project. Funds will be donated to the new Arcadia Public Library for micro-filming copies, past and future, of The Arcadia Tribune, as a permanent historical record of city activities. Club members prepared the meal in the clubhouse kitchen, serving nearly 200 from 8 a.m. to 12:30.

A START toward a civic project of creating a permanent record on micro-film of Arcadia's history was made last week as Arcadia Women's Club presented a $100 check to Librarian Homer Fletcher. The money, raised with a community breakfast sponsored by the club, plus another $25 which the club presented at the dedication of the new library, will go toward micro-filming of past, present and future issues of the Arcadia Tribune as a permanent library reference. Making the presentation were Mrs. Philip Sherk, Women's Club president, center, and Mrs. Harry Russell chairman of the club's civic department. The club plans further fund-raising events for the project and will also solicit aid from other community groups. Micro-filming methods and costs are now being studied by library officials, Fletcher said, and the filming process will probably start with the oldest newspapers available, bringing files up to date as funds accrue.

Mary Jane Fuerst Says Vows in Church Rites

In one of the loveliest weddings of the Christmas season, Miss Mary Jane Fuerst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert John Fuerst of Holly Avenue, became the bride of Mark John Salcido, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark John Salcido of Bakersfield. The Rev. Henry L. Evans, pastor of the Church of the Transfiguration of Arcadia, performed the 4 p.m. ceremony in the Episcopal Church of the Epiphany on Rincon Road in San Gabriel.

Mary Jane was escorted to the altar by her father down an aisle festooned with white satin ribbons and bows of white satin decorated with flocked magnolia and holly. The reading desk was traditionally white trigger with flocked greens and satin with bracelet length sleeves gathered at the elbows, a portrait neckline trimmed with crystal studded re-embroidered Alencon lace, and a soft skirt accented with sprays of matching lace falling into a full chapel train. A veil of illusion net was held by a coronet of lace, diamonds and pearls. The bridal bouquet was fashioned of phalaenopsis orchids centered with gardenias, white stephanotis and ivy. All center carriage arrangements were combined with a corsage of butterfly orchids. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of her bridegroom.

The bride, and her attendants wearing emerald green satin sheath gowns made a colorful picture against a background of flocked magnolias, holly and white winter blossoms at the altar and in the sanctuary.

Bridal Entourage

The attendants' gowns were fashioned with scoop neckline, three-quarter sleeves and bell-shaped overskirts with a flat bow in front, with matching shoes, gloves and Juliet caps. They carried presentation bouquets of red delight roses. Miss Bernice Salcido of Bakersfield, twin sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Cynthia Johnson of Arcadia and Delta Gamma Sorority sisters of the bride. Miss JoAnn Nelson of Santa Maria and Miss Patricia Brinker of Yucaipa.

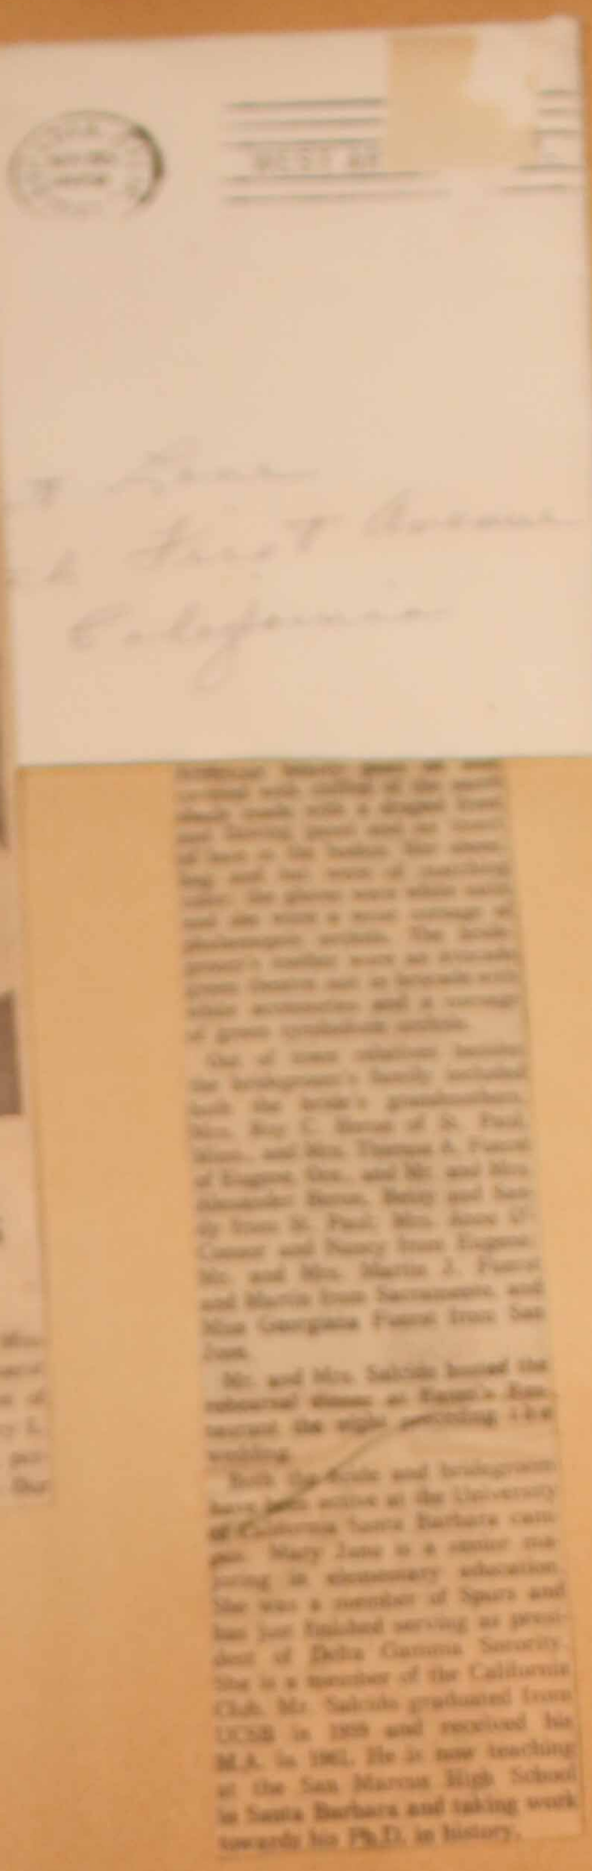
Miss Judith Johnson of Eugene, Ore., also a sorority sister, sang "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," and "My Heart Ever Faithful," by Bach, at the beginning of the ceremony.

Douglas Johnson of Bakersfield was best man and seating the guests were Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity brothers of the bridegroom. Samuel Huston, Midleton Squier and Anthony Askew.

The reception followed in the parish hall of the church which was decorated with arrangements of holly and spider chrysanthemums. White camillias circled the four-tiered wedding cake. Misses Sandy and Betsy Heron, twin cousins of the bride from St. Paul, Minn., were in charge of the guest book. Another cousin, Miss Gretchen Fuerst, assisted at the punch bowl.

Mothers' Gowns

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fuerst chose a gown of



...rehearsal dinner at Rusty's Bar, ...ceived the night preceding the ...wedding.

Both the bride and bridegroom have been active at the University of California Santa Barbara campus. Mary Jane is a senior majoring in elementary education. She was a member of Spurs and has just finished serving as president of Delta Gamma Sorority. She is a member of the California Club. Mr. Salcido graduated from UCSB in 1959 and received his M.A. in 1965. He is now teaching at the San Marcos High School in Santa Barbara and taking work towards his Ph.D. in history.

Flower Theme Used In Club Installation

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, literature chairman of Verdugo District of C.F.W.C. installed the new officers of Review and department Club, May 22, in a garden setting at the home of Mrs. Joseph Parnham. A colorful flower theme was used for the installation.

Mrs. Clarence Browning assumes the chairmanship of the department, following Mrs. Jack Gravett under whose leadership the group more than doubled its membership and captured four individual awards in the fields of poetry, prose and international hostessing.

Mrs. McAbery announced that the department won first award in literature at the district level.

Under Mrs. McAbery's chairmanship, Verdugo District won an award for literature at the state C.F.W.C. convention held in San Jose recently. The award was based on the publication of all the entries in the district creative writing contest, on the formation of three scribblers groups and the growth in membership and quality of programs.

A potluck luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mmes. Fred Schindler and James Goodwin.

SIGNING PROCLAMATION OF FEDERATED WOMEN'S CLUBS DIAMOND JUBILEE
Mayor Conrad T. Reibold and Mrs. Harry Lauber, Woman's Club president.

Arcadia (Cal.) Thursday, March 3, 1966

Conrad T. Reibold, Mayor of Arcadia, signed a proclamation naming today, Thursday, March 3, as the General Federation of Women's Clubs Diamond Jubilee Day. This is in honor of the largest national and international organization of women in the world which is celebrating 75 years of service and achievement.

The mayor's proclamation read in part "Whereas, the Woman's Club of Arcadia has made contributions over the years to civic and cultural development of the City of Arcadia"

The constitution of the General Federation was ratified April 24, 1890, and on March 3, 1901, President McKinley signed the federal charter of the federation.

The Woman's Club of Arcadia was organized in 1914, incorporated in 1930, federated with state and district in 1920 and federated with General Federation in 1924.

History

The GFWC this year looks back over 75 years to trace some of the beginnings. They reach far into the 19th Century. And the end of the beginnings is nowhere in sight as women of the 20th Century see new needs.

Today's woman has pushed out the four walls of home to embrace city, town, state and country where her family lives. Through her club, she extends her good housekeeping to her larger environment. It may have started as a cultural group or a sewing circle, but it has become an instrument for social action with worthwhile implications.

Women's clubs are indigenous to the United States. The movement started in the Midwest. It grew out of the needs of cultured women who had made the tired, hazardous trek with their husbands from the security of the settled East to the uncertainties of the new West. They knew they must not only build homes but also a cultural environment for themselves and their families.

What the women have accomplished stands as a practical tribute to them in every community.

When the United States Congress established the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in 1953, it caught up with the women's thinking in the early 1900's.

When the United States Congress established the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in 1953, it caught up with the women's thinking in the early 1900's. In 1908, the federation asked Congress "to establish a department of education whose head shall be a cabinet officer." In 1910 it asked the same status for health.

The federation has been credited with a major share in the passage of legislation establishing a Pure Food Bureau in 1907 (now the Food and Drug Administration), the Children's Bureau in 1912 and the Women's Bureau in 1920.

The juvenile court was first established in Illinois in 1899, thanks to the Chicago Woman's Club. A member of the federation, this club was responsible for the drafting and passage of the first juvenile court law. In 60 years this has spread to every state in the Union and to every civilized country in the world.

Since 1954, clubs of the federation have been working to combat the evil influences of comic books dealing with crime, sex and horror. Through their efforts between 1954 and 1958, 38 states have passed legislation, and hundreds of towns and cities passed ordinances banning the sale of such books.

The federation was credited by Gen. George C. Marshall with making a valuable contribution to support the North Atlantic defense pact and has continued to support NATO. It's legislative policy is determined by the resolutions it adopts at its national conventions.

Perhaps no activities have better illustrated the ingenuity and resourcefulness of the clubwomen than those of its Community Improvement Program. Under this, clubs in action on the local level have improved their own communities where improvement was most needed, involving the whole community in the effort.

A winning

As a very young girl sitting primly beside her mother at a newly organized rural Federated Woman's Club, Mrs. William Greenway had her first exposure to activities of Women's Club. Little did she realized what part this organization would play in her life.

This past year as the president of the Arcadia Woman's Club Mrs. Greenway had the privilege of seeing tremendous expansion and growth in many areas.

At the Verdugo District convention the Arcadia club received the Federation Extension trophy and 33 other awards, including one medal, one pin, two sweepstakes, 14 first place awrds, 10 second place awards, one third place award and four special awards. The number of awards received during this one year are as many as the past three years collectively.

The active participation of club members in the various departments of Federation, with a 200 per cent increase in this particular area, have led to expanded interest in the club and a closer feeling of working together.

The Arcadia Woman's Club garnered many outstanding awards at the District Convention this spring. Activities for the youth of the community were varied and many. A baby sitting clinic was held for students of junior high school age. An art contest was organized in which all students in Arcadia schools could participate. A $1,600 scholarship for an outstanding student, Peter Johnson, was completed this year. The scholarship will enable him to complete his fourth year at medical school.

Through many facets of community endeavor the Woman's Club of Arcadia has tried to show its love of mankind through community service.

Following the motto for the year, selected by Mrs. Greenway from the collection printed in her mother's 1927-28 year book, "Let us not forget to be kind" the club explored new areas of enrichment for themselves and others.

Delegates to the California Federation of Women's Club convention from Arcadia club were Mmes. Richard Nestler, left, Bruce McAbery, Edward Frank and William Greenway. Convention was held in San Diego in May. At this convention Mrs. Douglas Schinke, art and penny art chairman, of the Arcadia club, won a first place award for her report on Art Achievement. The award was an oil painting by H. Bullen and has been placed in the clubhouse. Each Woman's Club is part of a district which makes up the State Federation. In addition the Federated Clubs from each state, together with those clubs which have combined to form separate organizations in foreign countries make up the General Federation of Women's Clubs. There is a General Convention held once a year. This year it is being held in San Francisco. Clubs are encouraged to pursue programs of philanthropy and culture which meet needs of community.
